Students protest CIA recruiters

About a dozen University of Wisconsin-Madison students picketed in front of Bascom Hall on the campus today to protest job recruitment interviews by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The CIA is holding recruitment interviews on the Engineering campus today and Thursday. Demonstrators are opposed to CIA presence on the campus because of the agency's involvement in Central America.

Demonstrators tied an effigy of CIA personnel to a pillar at Bascom Hall in protest of alleged "war crimes" of the agency.

When CIA recruiters came to campus last fall, Chancellor Irving Shain barred protesters from the engineering building where interviews were taking place. Protesters said today they did not attempt to picket the engineering building, but marched outside Shain's Bascom Hall office instead.
